

BBC CHILDREN IN NEED WHAT MAKES US SPECIAL

Your headteacher has given you the role of organising a whole school bring and buy sale to raise money for BBC Children in Need. You can also arrange some other fundraising events to happen at the same time.

Your teacher has made notes on all the special skills, talents and qualities people in your class have. Using the things that make your classmates special, you need to give each person a job. Roles could include sorting all the items into different categories, arranging the things for sale so they look nice, deciding how much each item should cost, serving the customers, collecting the money and giving change and counting the money at the end.

On a separate sheet of paper, write down each person's job. Some of the people may do sponsored activities during the bring and buy sale. You may want to have a cake and refreshment sale at the same time.

Name	What makes them special?
Ahmed	Ahmed is really good at maths.
Amy	Amy is super funny and always makes people laugh.
Beth	Beth is a very kind person and is good at helping people.
Chini	Chini is very creative.
Elsbeth	Elsbeth is good at craft activities and making things.
Freddie	Freddie is really fit and enjoys running and walking.
Guy	Guy is really good at baking.
Joe	Joe has good organisation skills.
Marcel	Marcel is friendly and is good at making people feel welcome.
Nikolai	Nikolai is very creative.
Penny	Penny likes designing comic books.
Sara	Sara is really good at using the computer and knows about lots of different computer programmes.
Toni	Toni is really good at maths.
William	William is very organised and is good at helping arrange things.

© BBC 2007 Reg. Charity England & Wales no. 802052 and Scotland no. SC039557